SELECTMEN'S REPORT

---

Recommendations of the Board of Selectmen

For the Year 1924

With Explanatory Preface to the Report

In handing this report to the citizens of Farmington for their consideration, we are pleased to state that in no instance do we need to apologize for what has been accomplished nor for any lack of results in spending the money that has been intrusted to us, under appropriation or otherwise. In spite of the fact that we have encountered obstacles that were placed in the way by the forces of nature in precipitating tremendous snowstorms that cost us heavy items of expense early in the year, and by making certain improvements that could not prudently be delayed longer without exposing the town to possible damage suits, we are satisfied we have kept the expenses well within consistent bounds, and at the same time have practiced the closer economies where luxury or superfluous improvements have been concerned. By applying these processes of economy, we have taken care not to jeopardize the costs of subsequent years in making this year's books look good for ourselves and passing any burden on to the incoming boards of other years.

Where we repaired Main and Central streets with asphalt, permit us to say that the majority of funds required for this purpose were derived from the excess received on auto permits, which greatly exceeded our estimate when appropriations for this year were made. By doing this work at a time when it was most needed and by using the surplus from auto permits, which applied to the debt would have made a fine showing for the board, we have obviated the necessity of making any appropriation for this work, at the March meeting, a fact which will reduce the new tax rate about $1.60 on a thousand.

Along with this explanation, we may add that our trunk line road construction has been completed and no appropriation will be needed for that department.

Anticipating the needs of the new year, our country road problem is presenting one of the most troublesome aspects. These roads need four times the amount of repairs they did four years ago, and the quicker they are put in more permanent condition the better it will be for all concerned, as the late fall rains left many of these roads in bad if not a dangerous condition.

A few years ago we had thirty-one wooden bridges in town. Today we have twenty, and there is likely to be one less any minute. We refer to what is known as the Hayes bridge. This bridge has to be looked over every week and strengthened with additional props and new plank. Should an accident occur, it is likely to cause the town more expense than a new bridge and the cost of renewing the structure will be up to the town just the same. We suggest that this old bridge be replaced with a new and permanent structure and that money be hired for that purpose. This, of course, will increase the debt, which is only $8,191.09, and is not large for a town of this size when its area of improvements are measured.

It never has been the custom in making up the annual reports to charge against the town, in its assets, such items as buildings and construction apparatus; however, as we have been requested to do so this year, we are showing these items in this preface, as follows, instead of making any radical departure from former customs and entering them under heads of the report.

Steam roller	$3,000.00
Stone crushing outfit	2,300.00
Town shed and land	2,000.00
Spraying outfit	1,400.00
Opera house and fittings	30,000.00
Highway snow plows and road machines	2,000.00
	<hr/>
	$40,700.00

With the town debt subtracted from this amount there is left $32,508.91, which represents the true assets of the town over all liabilities, at the close of the fiscal year's audit.

As a further addition to our recommendations, we suggest that a small appropriation be made for further development of Fernald park as a playground for the children.

We might take up more time and space in this interview with our constituents and still leave much unsaid in the way of what might be done to forward the economic interests of Farmington, but improvements cost money and we much prefer that the ideas of the citizens be suggested to us rather than that we take uninstructed initiative in incurring costs that the tax payers have to meet. We are here to represent the town rather than misrepresent it, and we are pleased to entertain and consider any subject pertaining to the town's interest that is broached to us by a citizen or group of citizens.

We thank you for your cooperation.

FRANK A. ADAMS,
LEON E. KNOX,
HARRISON G. WALDRON,
Selectmen of Farmington.
